

Duke Laflamme, CFA

Investment Counselor, Director of Income Strategies

Duke Laflamme is vice president, investment counselor and director of income strategies of Eaton Vance Investment Counsel, a division of Eaton Vance that provides investment management and counseling services to high-net-worth individuals, families, trusts and foundations. He is responsible for managing separate portfolios for taxable high-net-worth clients, family groups and institutional investors. He joined Eaton Vance in 1998.

Duke began his career in the investment management industry in 1996. Before joining Eaton Vance, he was an assistant portfolio manager at Norwest Investment Management.

Duke earned a B.S. and B.A. from Colorado State University. He currently serves as director of the Fixed-Income Management Society of Boston and is a CFA charterholder.